Guarding Distribution Centres

Experience In Protecting Assets

Uniqwin has a great deal of experience in protecting assets, particularly in distribution centres and through to the point of retail. We offer that experience to our clients: providing our knowledge and experience to protect your assets. We integrate personnel resources and innovative technology to keep your costs to a minimum while providing a highly effective service.

Specific Training For Distribution Centres

Our officers are specifically trained to deal with your requirements. We will tailor bespoke programmes to fulfil your security needs, particularly in perimeter control and access control measures. Security guards focus on asset protection and can adapt proven models and systems to match the needs of your environment.

Management Support

Our managers make a difference in guarding Distribution Centres. Their abilities and commitment provide exceptional supervisory and management support both for you and our officers. Manned guarding needs good management to be most effective, and clients need to know that security managers will be there when needed. Security personnel work better with close supervision, monitoring of performance, good back up resources and regular audits. Uniqwin provides these features.

Technical Provision

Uniqwin are ahead of the game with technical support. Technology is used to ensure our officers are continually alert, doing what is expected of them, and accountable at all times. We keep disruption and shrinkage to a minimum with the aid of CCTV and other technologies. We provide services for blue chip companies and have a reputation for providing a secure and safe environment.
